

HALLOWEEN PUKING PUMPKIN!

Pumpkin + Baking Soda + Vinegar = Puking Pumpkin! Try this very exciting Halloween Pumpkin Volcano Science Project!

SUPPLIES:

- One carved pumpkin
- Baking soda
- Vinegar
- Food coloring
- Large plastic juice jug or a bucket works too
- An outdoor space you don't mind getting a little messy

HOW TO MAKE YOUR PUMPKIN PUKE:

1. First, carve your pumpkin! Take your pumpkin outside and set it on a surface that is easy to hose off. We used an upturned bucket.
2. Take the top off your pumpkin. Now add baking soda (about 1/2 cup should be right, but adjust as necessary for best eruption). Be careful it doesn't poof right out the mouth!
3. In the juice jug or budget mix vinegar with some orange food coloring (or whatever color you want). We used about 2 cups of vinegar. This experiment does not require you to be exact. So let the kids experiment with ratios and play.
4. Ready? Now slowly pour the vinegar into the pumpkin. Watch as your eruption starts and your pumpkin volcano looks like it is vomiting.
5. Grab more vinegar and you can do this over and over again!
